

Paths to Publishing Workshop

How does your book go from .doc to bookstore shelves?

Presented by
New York Times and USA TODAY
Best Selling Author and HSU Alumna
Kristin Miller

Tuesday, October 11, 2016
3:00 - 5:00 PM in the Fishbowl (LIB 209)

Whether you've finished writing a book or are still in the trenches of the draft process, it's essential to know what comes next.

In this workshop, you'll learn tips and tricks for writing an enticing query letter that'll land you an agent. She'll discuss the ins-and-outs of the business from traditional "Big 5" NYC publishing, small press, to indie. Also included: key resources for formatting and distributing in self-publishing.

Publishing isn't easy, but with the right tools you can maximize your likelihood of establishing a successful writing career. Bring your questions and ask away!

Kristin Miller writes contemporary romance, romantic suspense, and paranormal romance of all varieties. In the eight years since she began writing, Kristin has published fifteen novels with two major New York publishers and has sold ten books on the blurbs alone. Four of her books skimmed onto the USA Today Bestsellers list in the last two years, and she has seven books slated for 2016. Kristin has degrees in psychology, English, and education, and taught high school and middle school English before crossing over to a career in writing
